Australian Rotary Health

Australian Rotary Health is a multi-District program of the Rotary Districts of Australia. It's primary mission is to fund medical research by Australians, for Australians.

Research projects to be funded are selected by an honorary Research Committee, comprising eminent medical professionals from around Australia.

Australian Rotary Health has now allocated over $20 million in grants to Australian researchers.

The major focus of this research is currently on mental illness but other areas supported include: cancer research (bowel, prostate, breast and pancreatic): multiple sclerosis: motor neurone disease: organ transplants: leukaemia: and many others.

Australian Rotary Health is approved by the Board of Rotary International as a multi-district project.
